

The 3rd CAMMSE Summer Camp on Transportation Engineering was held from June 10 to 14 at UNC Charlotte. This edition of the camp had 23 participants from grade 9 to 11 with 31% of the campers being females. The camp is a full day camp that ran from 9 to 4 pm every day. Activities included:

- What is a civil engineer
- What is a structural engineer
- Pedestrian bridge activity
- Modes of Transportation interactive activity
- Freight activity
- Balsa wood construction and testing week-long competition.
- Geometric road design week-long competition.
- Surveying activity
- Materials lecture and lab testing activity
- Field trip to Charlotte airport
- Field trip to traffic control facility
- Transportation safety activity
- Driving simulator activity
- Environment and water quality testing activity

Select photos of the June 2019 edition of the camp are provided in the following figures.

